INTRODUCTION

In our normal life, online map is a popular way to help people searching famous places during people travelling outside. But as a visitor, people usually not familiar with a different country, so they have to ask people for help to find correct way to visit famous spots. Which waste to much time.
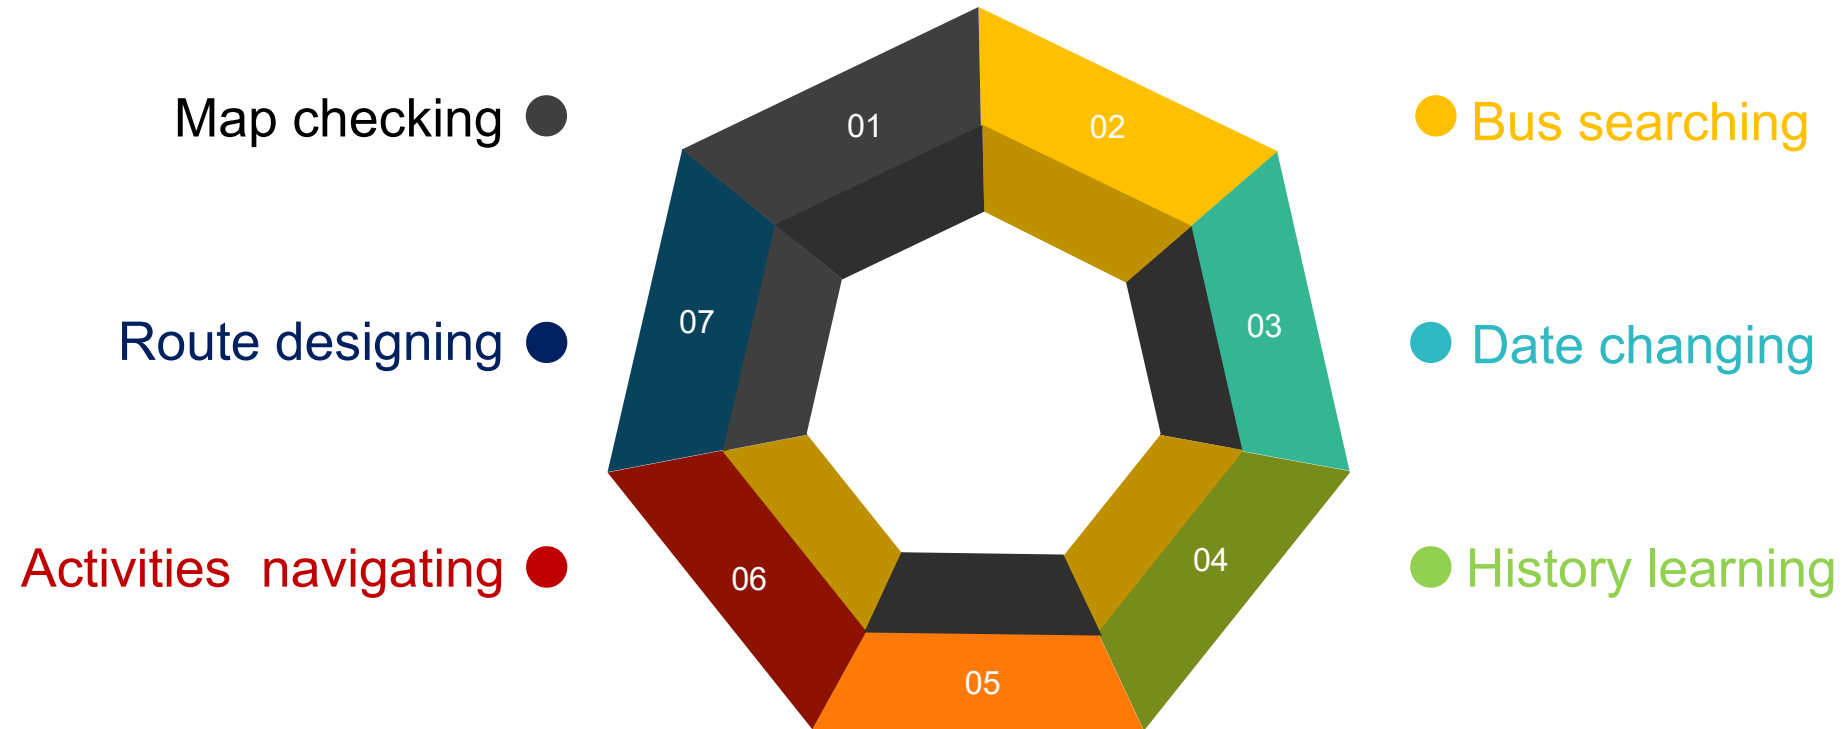

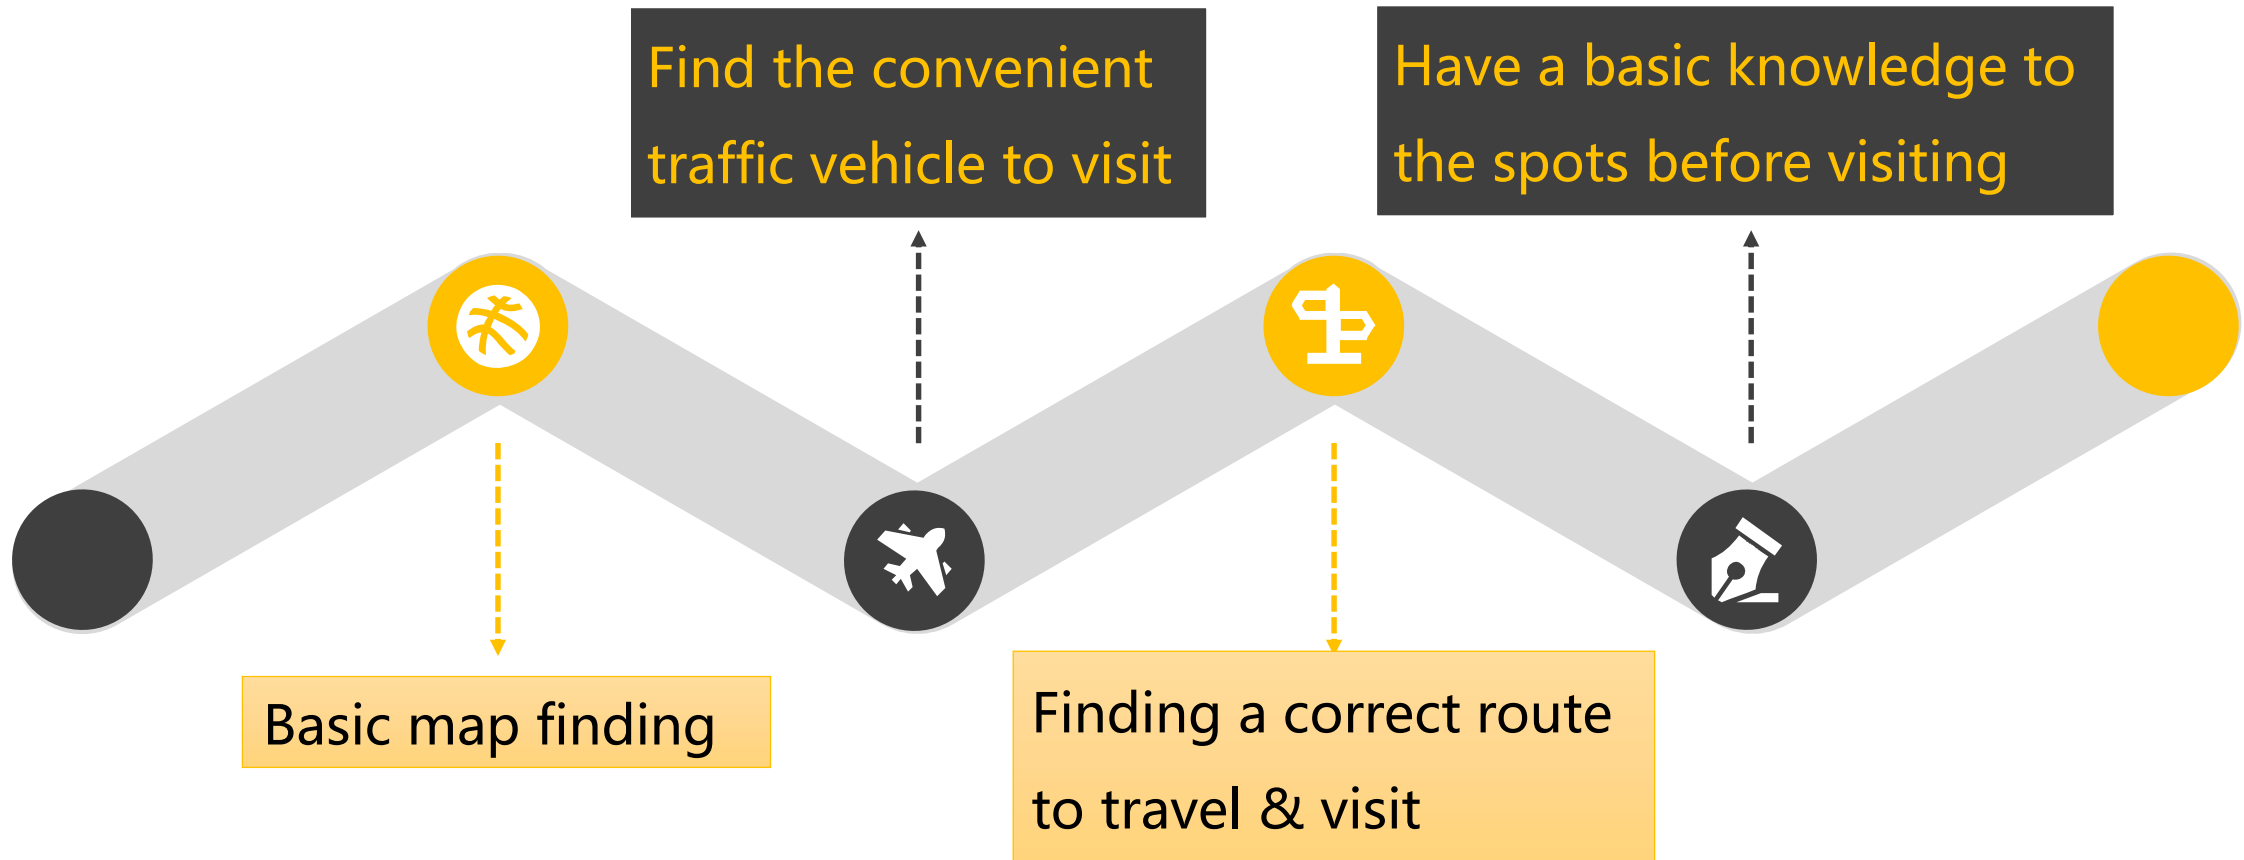

Why design a travel reminder?

BACKGROUND

What is people expect to see? Based on the experience I first time arrive to Ireland, we wasted too much time on finding a correct bus from airport to UL. Indeed, it had many bus station near the airport, but there was no information to give people an entire bus guide.

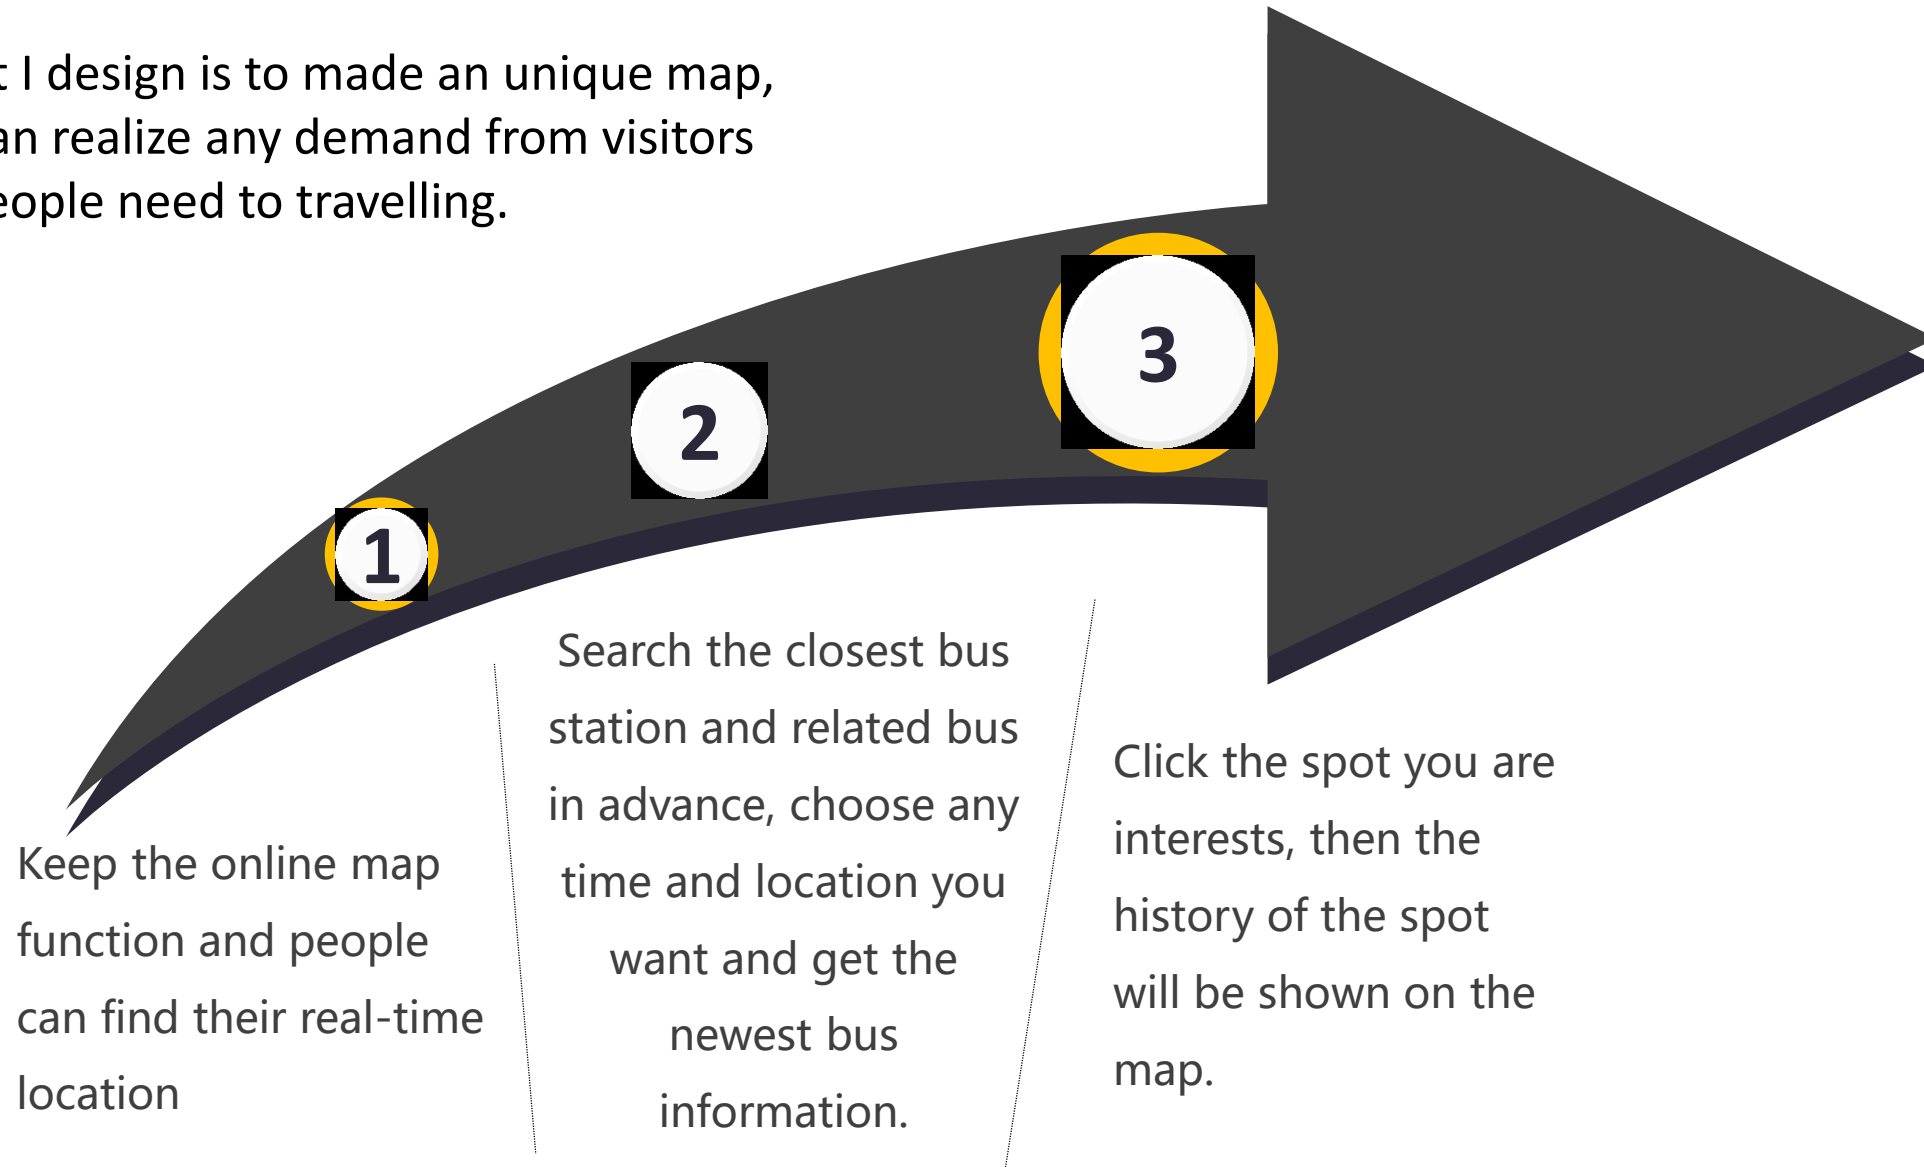

Functions design

Find the convenient traffic vehicle to visit

Have a basic knowledge to the spots before visiting

Basic map finding

Finding a correct route to travel & visit

Designing & Thinking

So, what I design is to made an unique map, which can realize any demand from visitors when people need to travelling.

Keep the online map function and people can find their real-time location

Search the closest bus station and related bus in advance, choose any time and location you want and get the newest bus information.

Click the spot you are interests, then the history of the spot will be shown on the map.

Designing & Thinking

Getting Knowledge

Another design is famous place introduction. This is an internet world, people mostly use phone to play movies or text with others instead of reading books to get knowledge.

So what I try to do is connect the knowledge of history with the map, so that people when people waiting for bus or on their visiting way, they can use this function to learn more knowledge about the country or the famous spot.

Designing & Thinking

Based on some vehicle maps function, then doing the navigation to the related route, it will appear purple or red colour to give people a remind that which route have a traffic gam. So I next step is using this function on my map, but do some improvements.

As we all know, there are some special activities in Ireland, like St. Patrick's Day, Opening Day in any university and even different city's Christmas Parties. But these activities cannot be known exactly unless local people. So what I designed is put these activities on the maps on the related location, then if people want to check any date' s activities they can easily find the location on the maps.

Conclusion
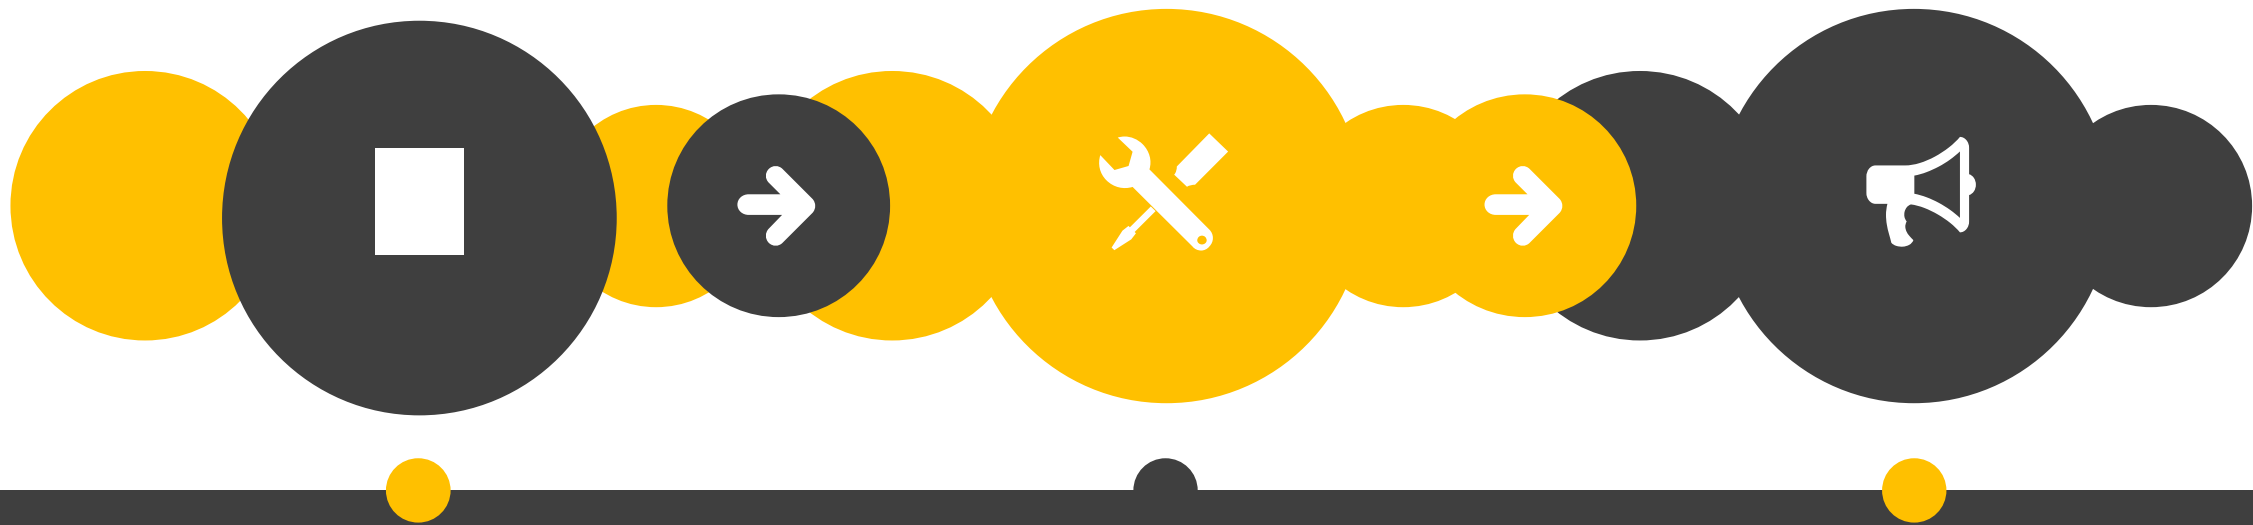

In conclusion, the first thing to this project is design the function of the maps.

Next, try to achieve these functions and made an equipment suit for the map if possible.

Finally, a Travel reminder finish! The basic principle is improve interaction and try to make our life more and more convenient!

Thanks for watching!
